Flexible settlement models

Fixed-Price

Fixed Price is set in advance budget that we want to spend on precisely determined, invariable range of work.

This solution will not work when the website needs more elastic approach and changes of the conception during the work.

Time & Material

You pay for a work that was actually done by software house team. You can always control the progress and change the conception during the realisation of the website.

Time&Materials seems to be slightly cheaper, since programmers don't have to include insurance amount that covers eventual difficulties.

We take care of efficiency, safety and high aesthetics standard of websites

At each stage of the cooperation, we look at the project from the perspective of our customers and become IT department of their companies. Thanks to this we can understand their business needs and propose the optimal way to meet them.
